

U. S. FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION, S. KOREAN TROOPS FIGHT TOWARD HEART OF PYONGYANG AFTER ENTERING RED CAPITAL FROM TWO SIDES IN DECISIVE BATTLE

Die-Hard N. Korean Groups Believed Screening Gov't Flight

RESIST DESPERATELY

Fall of 3200-Year-Old Pyongyang Believed a Matter of Hours

By Howard Handelman (Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Oct. 19. (INS)—The trail-blazing U. S. First Cavalry Division and South Korean troops fought toward the heart of Pyongyang today after entering the Red capital from two sides in the Korean war's decisive battle.

Die-hard North Korean troops, possibly screening a flight of the Kim Il Sung government to the northern mountains, desperately resisted the armor-paced, air-supported United Nations forces inside the centuries-old metropolises.

Hard as it was, this opposition, waged with the enemy's carefully husbanded tanks, anti-tank guns, artillery, machine-gun and small-arms fire, was considered by American military officials no more than a strong rearguard fight.

Fall of 3,200-year-old Pyongyang, first capital of the ancient Korean nation, was believed but a matter of hours.

It was thought and hoped that destruction of one of the world's most magnificent cities, replete with Buddhist temples and other architectural masterpieces, would not be necessary.

The First Cavalry Division—first American unit to smash into Manila during World War II, and first to enter Tokyo to launch the occupation of Japan—was first into Pyongyang.

Confirming field dispatches, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters spokesman in Tokyo declared at 5:30 Thursday afternoon (3:30 a. m. EST) that the famed First Cavalry entered Pyongyang at 11:30 a. m. (9:30 p. m. Wednesday EST).

He said the ROK First Division rammed into the city of 700,000 within some 100 miles of the Manchurian frontier and about 125 miles from Soviet Siberia by Thursday morning.

But it was on Pyongyang that all attention was focused. Initial Allied force to pound over the city limits was a battalion of First Cavalry troops.

The Americans stormed over a belt of Red roadblocks and entrenchments in Pyongyang's southern outskirts, crossed a creek and gouged out a bridgehead on the northern side where they bumped up against intensive fire from enemy artillery and anti-tank guns.

Before noon, the tank-led dismounted First Cavalrymen, who had fought so heroically and victoriously to defend the Taegu corner of the old Allied beachhead in South Korea, had secured their foothold and began thrusting toward the middle of the city.

They entered Pyongyang in a dingy factory district. Flying over the metropolitan area at 11 a. m. in a liaison plane, International News Service war correspondent John Rich reported that the spearheading First Cavalry's battalion was held up for a time at the south end of a concrete bridge spanning the creek.

From the other side of the little stream, the Reds were firing heavily with artillery, anti-tank guns, mortars and machine guns.

Rich said that from a low alti-

WARMINSTER, Oct. 19.—The fall assembly of Bucks County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will be held on Saturday, Oct. 28 in Warminster School, Street road (Route 132) one half mile east of York road. Here, as formerly, the fall assembly will be a school of instruction, with program planning, parliamentary procedure, and use of publications being featured.

At the morning session, starting at 9:30, Mrs. Harry Rossiter, Jenkintown, will speak on parliamentary procedure.

Mrs. Alfred Lewis, county program chairman, and Mrs. William Cooper, county chairman of study groups, will give a demonstration program committee meeting. Question such as come up at any committee meeting will be discussed and many valuable ideas for program planning will be suggested.

At the afternoon session, at 1:30, Mrs. Alexander Groskin, vice president of the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers, will speak on Parent-Teacher publications. There will also be special music under direction of Miss Helen Chew, county music chairman.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

GLEAINED BY SCRIBES

Increased membership in the eighth district of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, is the objective set up Sunday at the district meeting of the posts of Bucks and Lehigh counties held at the Doylestown V. F. W. home.

Over 200 members of the V. F. W. and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the district, attended the afternoon meeting and the dinner that followed.

Details of the organization's plan to promote a greater number of community service projects throughout the United States, with the co-operation of the Auxiliary, were outlined by speakers. A total of $35,000 in cash prizes will be distributed among the V. F. W. posts of the country that during the next year, carry out the most worthwhile community projects.

Community service, the Vets were told, will greatly increase membership. Experience has proved conclusively that a V. F. W. Post and its Auxiliary, united in constructive community service work, invariably attract new potential leaders and workers into the ranks.

District Commander Claude F. Zetter, of Allentown, presided at the meeting.

With approximately 125 persons in attendance, the recently elected officers of the women's auxiliary of Wallace Willard Keller Post, No. 242, American Legion, were installed at Quakertown, last week. The affair was also highlighted by a dinner.

Among the large number of visitors were: Mrs. J. H. Smith, of Doylestown; Mrs. J. H. Smith, of Doylestown; Mrs. J. H. Smith, of Doylestown.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

President Truman, back in Washington, will ask Congress for immediate funds for Korean relief and a far greater amount as this country's share of the United Nations long-range reconstruction program.

A preliminary estimate for Korean aid of $200,000,000 in 1951 was presented to a United Nations committee.

French troops in Indo-China withdrew from another post on the Chinese border and the Vietnamese Premier asked for United States aid to build an army, navy and air force under "purely Vietnamese control."

The United Nations General Assembly's Political Committee overwhelmingly approved every section of the Acheson plan to enable the Assembly to act against aggression whenever a veto stalled the Security Council. India sought to end the Council's impose over a Secretary General by proposing that new candidates be secretly nominated, with the Big Five as secretly eliminating objectionable names.

Britain, because of the Sterling area earnings, showed a favorable trade balance in the first half of this year.

The first of a new type of World Bank loans to aid private enterprises was awarded to Mexico. President Truman, declaring the

Clinton Lewis Lodge Has Cornerstone Laying

Clinton J. Lewis Lodge, No. 201, I. B. P. O. E. of W., held cornerstone laying ceremonies at the Elks' home on Lake street on Sunday.

The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, Free and Accepted Masons of the Prince Hall Affiliation, laid the cornerstone in an impressive ceremony.

Master of ceremonies was P. E. Earl J. Ross, Sr. The cornerstone laying took place outside and the program continued inside as follows:

Remarks, Burgess I. Johnston Hetherington, Sr., introduction of dignitaries from the Grand lodge, Vice District Ruler Nettie Carter Jackson; also representatives from Camden, Burlington, N. J.; Reading, Phila.

Large delegations of Masons assembled from various cities in the district, including a representative from Delaware. The leaders of each lodge gave a brief talk.

The Rev. Andrew G. Solla gave the invocation. A past army chaplain, the Rev. Mr. Solla gave an inspiring talk on life as he saw it while in the service, at home and abroad.

Past State Chaplain, Mrs. Mary Quaries sang "The Rosary." Closing remarks were by District Deputy Edgar A. Still, of Eastern Pennsylvania, who also introduced others well known in Elksdom.

Refreshments were served, chairman of the committee was Joseph Taylor.

NUMBER STEEL FIRM WILL EMPLOY UNKNOWN

Representative of Company Addresses Remarks to The Pennsbury P. T. A.

A PANEL DISCUSSION

MAKEFIELD, Oct. 19.—A capacity crowd filled Lower Makefield school auditorium last evening when Pennsbury Parent-Teacher Association opened the season by presenting a panel discussion, entitled "Twenty Questions."

Uppermost among the questions was the one concerning increased pupil population when a steel plant is built in Falls township, and the effect it will have on the housing problem in the new over-crowded Pennsbury school district.

John Applegard, public relations representative of United States Steel Corporation, stated to the group: "United States Steel has no idea at this time just how many persons it will employ when the new plant is built. All industry along the entire eastern seaboard would like to have an answer to the question at this time. United States Steel would like to answer it, but right now it has to wait for the U. S. government to make a decision before it can go ahead. As soon as we know, we will be glad to pass on the information to those at the head of the school district."

Other questions pertained to the safety of pupils where the school buses cross the railroad and also U. S. Route 1; half sessions; and the new high school now under construction.

Members of the entire teaching staff of Pennsbury district were introduced, with corsages presented the women members and boutonnières to the men.

Alfred VanWagenen, budget chairman, presented the budget for the coming year. The budget, $2700, was adopted unanimously.

Mrs. Louis Lamett was elected to serve as corresponding secretary, succeeding Mrs. C. B. Arnold, who resigned.

For protection of pupils who walk to Makefield school, a number of P. T. A. members agreed to serve on a committee, members of which will take alternate turns in aiding the girls and boys crossing the thoroughfare at the school. The pupils protected in this manner are from grades one through four.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Glenn Breen and her hospitality committee.

HIT BY CAR

Morton Brown, 45, of Philadelphia, was hit by a car while walking along the Lincoln Highway in Fallsington. The driver, listed by Falls Township Police Chief Franklin Kirby as Joseph Backus, 22, of Fallsington, took Brown to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J., where he was admitted for treatment of a possible fractured right clavicle, a head cut and abrasions of the right leg.

PUPILS SEE BANKING FIRM "IN OPERATION"

400 From 4 Schools Make Tours of Bristol Trust Company

DURING "PA. WEEK"

Accepting the invitation to "Know Your Bank Better" as suggested in advertisements and folders published this week by The Bristol Trust Company, 400 school pupils yesterday visited the new, modern establishment of that banking institution. The girls and boys, pupils of public and parochial school, thus had opportunity to witness the banking firm "in operation," and to tour the fine structure opened to the public several months ago. This was a local feature of Pennsylvania Week, and the folders distributed to each pupil reminded them that Pennsylvania was the "birthplace of American banking."

Some of the young folks, accompanied by faculty members, made the trip to the Radcliffe street establishment in school buses. There they participated in tours of the entire structure, accompanied by bank employees. In the numerous departments other employees explained operation of modern banking machinery.

A high-light of each tour was when the "teen-agers were privileged to handle a $1,000 bill. Others received just as much of a thrill when they stepped up to a teller's window and received a "check" for $999.99. Each was given a pencil bearing the name of the bank, the year of its establishment, and the year "1950."

The 400 pupils were from Bristol township junior high school, Bensalem twp. high school, St. Mark's commercial school, and St. Ann's parochial school. On Wednesday, Oct. 20, the tour will be continued.

Bankers Discuss New Regulations and Laws

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 19.—The regular monthly meeting of the Bank Management Committee of the Bucks County Bankers Association was held here Monday evening. Representatives of 15 banks located in Bucks County attended the meeting.

Ralph W. Pitman, vice president of the Central Penn National Bank, Philadelphia, addressed the meeting on the subject of "Regulation W" and the "Soldiers and Sailors Relief Act."

Mr. Pitman was formerly associated with the Morris Plan Bank and has had 37 years experience in the field of small loans to individuals. He declared that the provisions of "Regulation W" as they were announced by the Federal Reserve Board on October 13, 1950, will not be as effective in the control of inflation as curtailment of the manufacture of durable goods. Mr. Pitman called attention to the fact that the maximum maturity of all small loans, the proceeds of which are used for the purchase of listed articles, is now 15 months. On furniture a 15% down-payment will be required, 25% on most appliances, and 33 1/3% on all automobiles, both new and used. The purchase of the average low-priced new automobile will require monthly payments by the borrower of approximately $100, while the purchase of an automobile in the price range of $2500 will require payments of $150 monthly in order to pay the obligation within the 15-month period permitted by the regulation.

In discussing the "Soldiers and Sailors Relief Act," Mr. Pitman declared that the lending institutions need have no fear of the average G.I. taking undue advantage of the benefits accorded to him. The experience of lending institutions during the last war was such as to indicate a high sense of moral responsibility on the part of the average G.I. Losses resulting from loans to servicemen were especially small. Mr. Pitman stated that the servicemen did a wonderful job of taking care of their obligations even though there were no ways of enforcing them.

MAY AGAIN HALT EXECUTION OF 3 FOR INN MURDERS

Right of Maj. Gen. Strickler To Sit on Pardon Board is Challenged

NOW IN U. S. SERVICE

General Strickler Came To Harrisburg To Make Quorum of Board

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—The execution of three Philadelphia convicts of killing two men during a holdup at the Feasterville Inn in 1947 may be postponed again as Philadelphia's Assistant City Solicitor G. Coe Farrier challenged the right of Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler to serve on the State Pardon Board.

Farrier filed his objection in Harrisburg yesterday, where the Board was to rule on commutation appeals of David Darcy, 25, Harry Zeltz, 21, and Harold Foster, 26. The three were convicted of slaying William Kelly and Allen Hellerman at the Bucks county inn on December 22, 1947.

The Board agreed to continue the case "until some future date" while a legal interpretation could be made.

Farrier contends that Gen. Strickler cannot serve on the State Pardon Board while he is in U. S. military service. Gen. Strickler is in command of the Pennsylvania 28th Division, which is now in federal service at Camp Atterbury, Ind.

The objection also attacks Gen. Strickler's right to continue as lieutenant-governor of the commonwealth.

Gen. Strickler came to Harrisburg from Camp Atterbury to make a quorum for the four-man board. State Attorney-General Charles J. Continued on Page Three

LOCATE MISSING BOYS IN MEDIA THIS MORNING

Thomas Lyons, Washington St., Thomas Ervin, Frosty Hollow Rd., Found

Said To Have Told Pals They Would Take "Hunting Trip to Mountains"

Two boys from this area, one a resident of Bristol borough, the other a resident of Frosty Hollow road, Middletown township, who had been missing from their homes since Tuesday afternoon at 4:30, were located in Media, Delaware county, this morning. The youths are Thomas Lyons, 14, of 342 Washington street, and Thomas Ervin, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ervin, Middletown township. At 11 o'clock this morning Mr. and Mrs. Ervin, and members of the Lyons family left for Media to bring the boys home.

Messages were broadcast by telephone when police of lower Bucks County were notified that the boys were gone, and their parents have been frantic to learn of their whereabouts. The two Thomases, both pupils at Neshaminy high school, Langhorne, had attended classes on Tuesday, it is stated. According to their pals the two had said they were leaving on a "hunting trip to the mountains," when they talked to said pals after school on Tuesday. Their parents state they knew nothing of the proposed jaunt.

Mrs. Ervin stated this morning that her son had no money with him as far as she could ascertain; and she was not certain that the boys had guns with them. "They wore only light jackets over their clothing," according to Mrs. Ervin, who added that the boys "didn't like school." The parents are of the belief that the two left the Ervin place about, young Lyons having met Ervin there Tuesday afternoon.

The Lyons family formerly lived at Pennell, Mr. Lyons being employed at present as a physiotherapist at the Woods School, Langhorne.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan (Distributed by International News Service)

Just got a delayed message from Wake Island that they found three abandoned smiles on the beach and will forward to the owner for postage.

But those Truman-MacArthur pictures came out fine. I hear the Republicans are thinking of ordering 300 sets.

The only thing wrong with them is that one man looked like he had an appointment with destiny and the other looked like his appointment was with the dentist.

I know in my set of pictures all the laughing teeth belong to one man and he doesn't look like anything comical is happening.

But no matter how you look at it, it was a graceful gesture so close to election day.

Currently there are no plans for another Wake Island meeting as long as Korea and Ohio continue to go well.

And I hear the next time the idea comes up it will all be handled in a night letter sent by special airtel.

NEW PARTY LINE

French officials have been noting, with a mixture of relief and suspicion, that sabotage and communist violence have almost stopped during the last few weeks. The French communists, largest political party in France, are no longer using violence in the effort to halt American arms shipments and French arms production.

A year ago Moscow ordered its French stooges to get tough. There was a purge of allegedly lukewarm communists by the French party. There was great ballyhoo expressing French determination to halt arms shipments and production. Now those orders have been reversed. Moscow has not had a change of heart, but has ordered a change in tactics.

The old tactics failed. They did not halt French rearmament. By their blatant anti-patriotic attitude they alienated the sympathies of the French people. Especially since the tide of battle changed in Korea, communist prestige has been slipping.

The communists will now try less direct methods. They will agitate for higher wages, a cause many French non-communists will support. They will appeal to French thrift, which was outraged by their destruction of property, by denouncing rearmament as a waste of French money.

They will appeal to the pride of Frenchmen, and to their war-weariness, by denouncing the government's "warmongering American masters" and its "policy for war." Moscow now thinks they can do more damage that way.

Maybe so, but it is a good sign, nevertheless. It means that the Kremlin and its followers are discovering that their policy of arrogant force is working badly. They will now try to make friends, influence people and support popular causes.

WHAT'S THE BURRO GOT...

The 19-year-old Mexican lad who hitched a ride on the tail assembly of an air-liner says his trip brought about the realization of a life's dream. That's his story and he sticks to it.

The casual observer, though, is likely to look at this hour-long ride as a rather remarkable physical feat, which indeed it was. It is only necessary to picture oneself hanging onto the streamlined tail surface of an airliner traveling 160 mph at 12,000 feet.

After the pilot had turned back and landed the plane "because it was tail heavy," there was no need to imagine what a slipstream will do, given time. Almost every stitch of clothes the boy had on him had been whipped to ribbons. He was practically paralyzed with cold. Perhaps this stiffening up of his muscles was what kept him glued to the ship.

It's typical of any boy to keep on insisting he loved a rough experience even though it half killed him. Deep down inside young Reyes Guerrero must think air travel isn't all the advertisements claim for it. On the burro isn't one much more comfortable, doesn't one keep one's clothes intact, and isn't it much, much warmer? Si, senor.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

(Copyright, 1950
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The day was when Communist propaganda artists were able to channel their slick wares into the unsuspecting pages of many of the best-name magazine publications of the nation.

Of late, however, the going has been so tough that peddling of the party line has been suffering progressive strangulation—at the very time when outlets were most needed: to help condition the public mind into giving Red China a new look of respectability for membership in the U. N.

So, in standard pattern, they have moved in on a little publication in South Orange, N. J., called "Swords into Plowshares," printed by the peace publications fund and backed by a woman whose worst fault is that she's a pacifist and has more money than guile.

The list of contributors of the latest issue reads like the mast-head of the Daily Worker, and they're armed with brand new sucker bait, the lush trade that awaits the U. S. once the Chinese Communies are recognized.

Big business gets tapped on the pocketbook and is told that glittering riches await those who are willing to do business with Communist China, the Soviet Union, and the other nations behind the iron curtain. And as usual, the first team has been trotted out to do the sales job. For instance:

Victor Perlo, author of one article, is described as a one-time government employee, which he was, and as a leading economist in the nation, which he is not. What the publication failed to mention is that Perlo, along with a number of other federal employees, was named by Elizabeth Bentley and Whittaker Chambers as a member of a Communist espionage net.

Perlo's pitch is for a few billion U. S. dollars in credit for China, the U. S. S. R., and the satellites. He wants the U. S. trade embargo lifted forthwith, and comes up with this argument:

"The U. S. S. R. is invading nobody. The U. S. S. R. threatens to invade nobody. The real reason for the embargo is not to prevent war. It is to make war. It is to hamper the development of industry in socialist countries, to slow up their growth."

Author J. J. Joseph, another one named in the Bentley-Chambers testimony, has a companion piece. His argument goes like this:

"All up and down the west coast, and particularly in the major port cities which have relied traditionally on trade with the Far East, there is a growing economic problem which could in large part be eliminated if the opportunity were seized to trade with the new government of China."

All of which is convincing but untrue. At the highest peak of trade with the Orient in history the volume of imports never exceeded 5 per cent of the total foreign trade for the U. S. As to unemployment, the west is booming, according to the Department of Labor statistics.

Joseph Starobin, foreign news editor of the Communist Daily Worker, is another contributor to the latest party line on China in the peace publications fund booklet.

Starobin points out how the comrades in the United Nations can needle the U. S. into recognizing China and force a brisk exchange of our machinery, oil and autos for the silks and spice and everything nice. He wants the U. N. to shake down Uncle Sam for "large sums of cash" for the technical assistance conference one of the several hundred United Nations splinter committees. This committee, comrade Starobin says, should scatter "International Delegations" far and wide to drum up trade for Russia, China and the satellites, using U. S. dollar credits for a lever.

The roster of authors for the new party pitch includes others such as Johannes Steel, well-known party mouthpiece; William Kerner, executive director of the committee for Far Eastern policy, and organization that has been cited as a front; and Mary Van Kleeck, listed in government files as a member of the party's professional group.

The new Red propaganda drive will be concentrated in Washington and on the west coast. It coincides with the State Department's undercover efforts to slip Communist China into the United Nations and cast Chiang Kai-Shek's representatives out the back door.

Most of the Communist arguments are persuasive in this new party line document.

However, occasionally their own arguments grow laborious and they get tough with the U. S. for instance:

"In attempting to isolate the central people's government of the people's Republic of China, American policy has effectively succeeded in isolating itself. The longer the United States delays recognition, the greater the loss of face will be when recognition is fully granted on the terms that Peking will undoubtedly make for accepting it."

What the comrades want is a 50-year, $10,000,000,000 U. S.-Soviet reconstruction program for Communist China. Moscow is already hinting at its willingness for peace and profits for the U. S. in the Orient, Perlo and his pals say. All the U. S. has to do is to be reasonable, and generous to the tune of $10,000,000,000. Any bids?

Newtown P. T. A. is To Hold Hallowe'en Parade

NEWTOWN, Oct. 19—Attendance at the meeting of Parent-Teacher Association in Council Rock high school, Tuesday evening, was about 125. Harry Yerkes conducted the meeting.

Robert Austin reported $70 will be turned over to the athletic association from the "Minstrel Melodies" of Oct. 7th. The first grade won the $5 award for greatest percentage of attendance.

The P. T. A. will sponsor a Hallowe'en parade Oct. 31st. Members of Newtown borough council will act as judges. Burgess Harry Shields will lead the parade, with Council Rock band in line, and amplifier of Newtown Fire Co. to add music. The fire company will also supply lights. All schools in the neighborhood will be asked to join.

and all residents likewise. Two prizes of $5 each will be awarded for the most comic, two of $5 each for most original, two of $5 for fanciest, and two of $10 each for the best groups. Rain date is Nov. 4th.

Norman W. Kratz explained that a committee of from nine to 15 school and lay people will visit Council Rock high school for three days on Feb. 20th, 21st and 22nd to evaluate the work being done in the school.

A copy of a magazine was displayed and the quiz in this considered as to the local school. It was the opinion of all that Council Rock has a high standard in the light of these questions.

During November, January and February, there will be no regular P. T. A. meetings, but visitation of home rooms for the better acquaintance and understanding between teachers and parents. For November, the fourth, fifth and sixth grade rooms will be visited. Parents having children in these grades will meet Nov. 20th, and after a ten minute period in the auditorium, will visit those three rooms. On Jan. 15th, parents having children in the first, second, ninth and 11th grades will visit those home rooms; on Feb. 19th, kindergarten, third, tenth, and 12th grade home rooms will be visited.

Mr. Kratz introduced teachers. It was voted to retain membership in the National P. T. A. Mrs. Clarence Heath was appointed a delegate to the county P. T. A. meeting at Warminster on Oct. 28.

Exciting Food Value Event!

91st ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION!

Customers' Corner

Have you noticed that our fresh fruit and vegetable departments are more attractive than ever before?

That's because we have worked hard to make them that way.

Our expert buyers get top quality produce.

Our skilled clerks are trained to keep the displays neat and fresh.

We've improved our refrigeration and packaging methods to insure freshness and shopping convenience.

We've cut our waste in the handling of produce so that we can pass the savings along to you.

All these things should make A&P fresh fruits and vegetables the best buy.

If they aren't, the employees in your store want to know about it.

Langhorne Case Now Being Heard

land, RD, landscape contractor, who is suing Robert B. Bradley and Phyllis Rich Bradley, Lahaska, growing out of a tree pruning deal at the Bradley estate in May, 1948.

The plaintiff, Heinicke, testified he verbally contracted with the defendant, Mrs. Bradley, to have 100 hours of work done for $150, pruning shade trees.

May Again Halt Execution Of Three for Inn Murders

Margiotti has disqualified himself from hearing the case because his law office had acted in behalf of the convicted trio before he took office. The two other members are William S. Livengood, Jr., secretary of internal affairs, and Gene D. Smith, secretary of the commonwealth.

Farrier claimed that Gen. Strickler had no right to serve, and without him the Board did not have its quorum of three.

Farrier said that "the constitution of Pennsylvania expressly disqualifies any person holding any office under the United States government from exercising any functions of governor and lieutenant-governor."

He said that the provision had been upheld by the courts and asked that the attorney general rule on Strickler's right to serve.

Bucks County District Attorney Willard S. Curtin asked that Farrier's motion be rejected, but the board decided to wait for a legal ruling.

As a result, 44 other cases before the board also were continued. Darcy, Deitz and Foster were originally scheduled to die in June, but received respite to permit the pardon board to hear new appeals. The State Supreme Court has rejected the motions for new trials.

HOME FURNISHINGS TODAY REFLECTION OF MODERN LIVING

By Frances Vannoy
(Home Economics Extension Representative)

Furnishings for today's home reflect today's living. Furniture is functional in design, and scaled in correct proportion to the room. Colors are being used in clearer and more lively tones. Harmony in home decoration is maintained with the use of fewer colors and large areas of neutral color.

Designers are interpreting the needs of today's way of living. Rooms appear larger and more restful through the grouping of furniture. Chairs and sofas for conversational groups are easy to lounge in. The traditional "suits" or "sets" of furniture are being replaced by unit furniture with interchangeable basic parts, making them adaptable for various types of service or storage. Upholstery material may be of easy-to-clean, colorful plastic, or a textured weave woven with carpet yarn.

Drapery materials show hand-blocked or hand-screened cottons and linens, with designs more abstract than floral.

Rugs now on the market are of cotton and linen as well as the standard wools. Texture in rugs rather than design is highlighted; nubby surfaces, short twisted pile, and sculptured designs are popular.

The dramatic lamp with its dark shade and ornate base is gradually giving way to a more functional lamp designed to give more light with less glare, and equipped with a shade that will throw the light where needed.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA

Delhaas High School

One hundred seventy pupils in the seventh and eighth grades of Delhaas high school attended the monthly dance Friday evening in Delhaas library. This dance, under supervision of the student council, was organized and sponsored by homeroom 8-H-4. Kenneth Harrold is the homeroom teacher. Special entertainment was provided by students of the school.

On Friday afternoon members of Delhaas safety patrol attended a group meeting of safety patrols of Bristol borough and Bristol township in the auditorium at Bristol high school. The program, organized by Keystone Automobile Club and the state police, included a short talk by Mr. Armstrong, the showing of a sound film on safety patrols, and a discussion by a member of the state police. Seventeen of the 26 members of the Delhaas patrol attended this meeting. Thomas Jenkins and Sidney Oppenheimer are the faculty sponsors of the patrol.

Edgely Intermediate

The children of third grade are taking great interest in decorating their room for Halloween. They are enjoying their cozy basement classroom, since the parents and teachers helped renovate it.

Fourth grade pupils have become enthusiastic about science. They are planning to make a booklet with pictures of birds, reptiles, and animals about which they are studying. Later they will have discussions and write stories about the science pictures they have collected.

Autumn in all its colorful beauty has arrived in another third grade class. The children have formed committees and have been participating in various group activities. One group has been working on an autumn forest scene in clay and the children have decided to call it the Enchanted Forest. Some of the children have planted different seeds from autumn plants and are watching their growth. If the weather permits, the children will terminate their autumn study with a trip to a nearby woods to observe autumn changes and collect specimens. Various seed pods have been studied. Discussions were held concerning the manner in which they are distributed for new plant growth.

One fifth grade class in social studies is beginning a tour of the United States. "We first decided how we were going to take this trip. Some of the boys are building airplanes, others are making trains. The girls sketched pictures of autos and buses. We intend to make our tour exciting and interesting. Collecting pictures and specimens will be one of our aims." The study of transportation over our country provides a wealth of vital information for children in social studies work. All academic subjects are learned more thoroughly when coordinated in one unit of work which is of major interest to the group.

Maple Shade

The second grade is studying about safety. They took a long walk to see traffic signs. Pictures were taken of the signs. They will be made into colored slides for classroom use.

Community

Physical examinations are being given in the elementary schools by Dr. James Lawler, school physician. Selma L. Baird R. N., the school nurse, is assisting Dr. Lawler in these examinations.

Dr. Fred Lefkowitz, the school dentist, has started his examinations for the district. Mrs. Baird is his assistant for this dental program.

Edgely Primary

Martya Tatamyr, a pupil in second grade has been ill and absent from school for most of the school year. Since she must be confined to her home for an indefinite period, her classmates have become interested in making a gift box composed of fruits, candy, cookies, and individual hand-made cards. They are all looking forward to her complete recovery and return to school. The children had a very fascinating experience Tuesday morning when a female praying mantis proceeded to lay her eggs and make her cocoon on one of the window frames. It was truly science at work and the children and teachers had a greater learning experience than they could ever have gotten from any book.

General School News

Dr. Genevieve Bowen, Elementary Supervisor from the County Office of Education, will be in the elementary schools for observation and consultation with the new teachers employed for this school term. On Friday, October 20, she will visit Maple Shade, Newportville, and Laurel Bend Schools. On Tuesday, October 24, she will visit Old Edgely and Croydon.

Elementary teachers from all of the eight schools in the district have been thoroughly enjoying the friendly informal visits with parents in their homes. These visits are appreciated by parents for they have an unusual opportunity to exchange educational plans for each particular child in a home. Many parents particularly expressed appreciation for these visits because they have home responsibilities with smaller children.

which prevent good school contacts.

School will be closed all day Monday, October 23. This is a Curriculum Day designated by the County Office of Education and shared by all districts under the County set-up. The elementary teachers have planned a local industry trip for the morning session. They will visit Rohm & Haas from nine until eleven o'clock. Tullytown elementary teachers will go with this group. The afternoon session will be held in the Makefield Building at Pennsbury School District. Noted speakers will talk on Library Facilities for elementary schools.

Children all over the district are bringing in articles and information for "Pennsylvania Week". Each room is giving considerable time and thought on the contributions of our State to the Nation and the World.

The elementary touch-football league is continuing their games. On Saturday, October 14, the following games were played: Laurel Bend won over Maple Shade on a forfeit, 1-0; the Jr. High School team won over Newportville, 6-0; and Edgely played Croydon to a 0-0 tie.

At the end of the second week.

Croydon, Laurel Bend, and the Jr. High are tied for first place with one win and one tie. Newportville has one win and one loss. Edgely has one win and one tie and Maple Shade has two losses.

Morrisville Borough

MORRISVILLE, Oct. 19 — "You Can't Take It With You" is to be staged on Nov. 9th and 10th in Morrisville high school auditorium. This three-act comedy will be put on by the seniors.

Mrs. Dorothy Keller of the faculty is the director, assisted by Miss Doris Rutherford. The cast includes Walter Huff, Priscilla Dean, Robert Schauer, Frank Zurlo, Virginia Rogers, Josephine Plumeri, Laywood North, Irwin Hillman, Carl Huff, Eileen Buhr, Peter Martin, Jeanne Harrison, Eileen Gandelman, Frank Lorimer, Andrew Thomson and Donald Disler. Rehearsals are now under way.

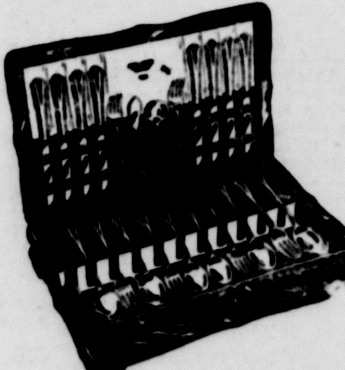

Bristol Borough

The report of the school nursing service for the month of September, submitted by Janice Singer, R.N., shows that 674 individual inspections were made for that period. The number of children reported to the school nurse as injured was 31; and there were 674 pupils weighed and measured.

Forty-one were reported to the school nurse as being ill. There were five children referred to the school doctor, and 15 to the family physician. Two were temporarily excluded from school by the nurse, because of symptoms of communicable disease. Three were re-checked for admission by the nurse.

There were 20 conferences held with teachers, 251 with pupils, and 15 with parents.

The nurse accompanied three pupils to doctors' offices, and one elsewhere. There were 41 visits to school buildings by the nurse.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. Harold C. Koch, S.T.M.
Pastor

It is the gift of God that when discouraged, we may turn to him and be reassured that he both knows and cares out our problems. "Almighty God, the refuge of all that are distressed, grant unto us that, in all the troubles of this mortal life, we may flee to the knowledge of thy loving kindness and tender mercy; that so, sheltering ourselves therein, the storms of life may pass over us, and not shake the peace of God that is within us. Whatsoever life may bring, may it never take from us the full faith that Thou art our Father. Grant us thy light, that we may have life, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen." (George Dawson . . . 1821 . . . 1876)

Teachers Dine And Hear Speeches

posed of adding more classrooms all over the nation. He then went on to the thousands of more teachers who will be needed in the next five and 10 years, also more school buildings, placing a question mark as to where the funds will come from. Stating that he has no quarrel with the veterans who insisted on bonus, he yet reminded that possibly the same veterans in five or ten years will wonder why there are not sufficient funds for school

NED ALBRIGHT

Suffered several injuries in his football career at Bristol High but this has not deterred the 155-pound junior for continuing the game. Injured for the third time early in the season, Albright is back into action in backing up the line on the defense. He will be at this post Friday night when the Warriors play host to the Southampton team.

"TEX" GIAGNACOVA

Junior, who has been playing a fine game as a starting lineman for the Bristol High Warriors. "Tex" will be in action Friday night when Bristol meets Southampton in a Lower Bucks County League tilt. Giagnacova weighs 165 pounds.

facilities for their children. He reminded: "We will remain in a position of partial mobilization in this country for some time. That poses the problem of a people living in an inflationary economy and in such partial mobilization at the same time. . . . Yes, where budgetary difficulties are found, they always first affect the educational field. And whatever the national economy is, it will have its impact on Bristol township."

Stating that "the heart of the school is the teacher, and the heart of society is proper schools," the problem of securing teachers was next presented. "Why don't we get teachers of proper quality and in proper quantity? Because we are not paying enough money! In order to get proper replacements we must pay them more." The speaker advocated $6,000, if necessary, for classroom teachers of proper caliber. One question asked was "How are you going to get alert, alive young people to enter a field where there is a dead alley, financially?" But he also reminded "We've got to restore to the teaching profession a prestige. And parents have got to stop 'sniping' at the teachers." The guest, while suggesting that "we've got to admit the teacher is an individual, entitled to live his or her life with no restrictions imposed aside from those imposed on others" added "the standard should be imposed on us by ourselves and not by the people. I object to society picking me out for certain restrictions because I am a teacher."

While stating that he believes in the tenure law, Dr. Stewart added: "There are, however, some evils in the tenure and we should correct them or they will be corrected by law. Remember, you've got to fight against teachers going to sleep under tenure. It is our responsibility to conduct ourselves in a professional manner, to so conduct ourselves that we won't need tenure. We must do a quality of service, so people of the community will not give a thought to the fact we are under tenure. . . . Where there is a good teacher there is good teacher-pupil relationship."

One point advocated was that after teachers' salaries reach a reasonable wage, the meritorious teacher should get more.

He decried the general trend of a "community pushing everything on the schools." We don't have time to do what we ought to do. We haven't all the responsibility. We're turning our schools into educational, correctional, custodial institutions." Remarking that he did not wish to end his address on a pessimistic note, Dr. Stewart gave as his belief "As long as we have the public schools doing their job, I have no fear for the land over which the Stars and Stripes wave."

The serving of the roast beef dinner was preceded by the blessing asked by Miss Evelyn Teaf, and followed by group singing. Among those introduced by the mistress of ceremonies were: Walter Miller, supervising principal of Bristol township schools; Mrs. Miller, school directors Edgar Spencer, William Clifton, and John Allman; also William Swangler, the latter of Tullytown board; Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Allman; and elementary supervisor Mrs. Dorothy McCollom.

The vice-president of the association is Miss Teaf; secretary, Miss Elizabeth Drawbaugh; treasurer, J. E. Sparks. The latter, with Mrs. John Wilkes and Miss Felice Delli-Pizzi, comprised the social committee.

HOSPITAL TV

COLUMBUS, O. — (INS) — Television in Columbus at least, is putting a number of the small-fry viewers on the injury list. One hospital reports a series of cases where the kids needed doctoring after trying out a few wrestling holds learned on TV. The younger set is learning such holds as a step-over-toehold but what they fail to learn is how to avoid injury.

nesday of next week, Bristol high school pupils will be visitors at the bank; and throughout this week the public is invited to make escorted tours anytime during banking hours.

The tour for each party included explanation of the real estate mortgage loan department; savings department where automatic entries are made simultaneously on the bank record cards and in the bank patron's book; trust department where the young folks were told how the institution cares for details of wills, or serves as guardian for minors or incompetent persons; safe deposit section where in order to open boxes both the depositor's and bank keys are required in order to open such. The 11-ton and 15-ton vault doors, with their time locks, intrigued the youngsters. The manner in which alarm is sounded, both outside the bank and in Bristol police station, in case attempt is made to open vault before time limit (or when push-button system at tellers' windows is used) proved of exceptional interest to the scholars.

The group saw the chests used for each teller's funds; watched while an address was cut on the addressograph plate maker, and imprint made of same; saw how the coin counter operates; and realized how time-saving and accurate is the automatic cashier machine. The tour also included the bookkeeping department where they witnessed processing of deposit slips at the proof machine; the processing of checks; and the microfilming of every check passing through the bank.

Through the folders distributed, the pupils learned that: "The year 1780 was a Revolutionary War period in which the cause of the American Colonies was at a low ebb. George Washington and his troops were in great distress. Soldiers were almost at the breaking point. On July 7, 1780, Robert Morris and others opened the 'Bank of Pennsylvania.' Then came the appointment of Robert Morris as Superintendent of Finance in May, 1781, and the establishment of the 'Bank of North America.' These Pennsylvania banks were the first banks in America, and their financial support brought vital supplies to our hard-pressed soldiers in the Revolutionary War. Pennsylvania's banks were busy in the birth of our nation!"

LOVE FIRST

BRIMFIELD, Mass. — (INS) — An Irish beauty queen has given up her crown for love. Doris Darcy, a 24-year-old Irish brunette, won the title of "Miss Dublin, Ireland of 1950" recently and was all set for fame and a possible small fortune that goes with it. But along came love in the form of Frank Richardson, a restaurant worker from Brimfield. So Doris gave up her crown and flew to the United States to marry him.

U. S. First Cavalry Division and S. Korean Troops Fight to Pyongyang

tude he could see the Americans taking cover at the roadside "as orange bursts of flame blossomed from directly across the bridge not more than a couple of hundred yards away."

Once they crossed the creek and entered the enemy capital's southern industrial district, the Americans had to contend with bullets in buildings and homes and firing from rooftops.

There was also heavy enemy gunfire from behind street barricades. The battle assumed some of the aspects of the recent grueling street fighting that raged inside Seoul for several days before American Marines and Army troops completed liberation of the South Korean capital.

A First Cavalry officer at the scene, indicating the fanatical nature of Pyongyang's defense, said the Reds "are throwing everything they have at American troops advancing" into the foremost North Korean city.

Notwithstanding the suicidal stand of some Red troops, several thousand others gave up the battle as a lost cause and crossed the fighting lines to give themselves up.

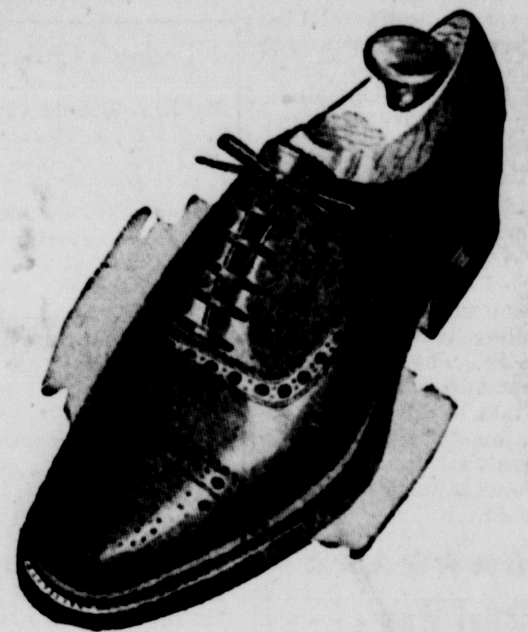

In the 24 hours before they entered Pyongyang along the main rail-highway artery leading into the capital, the U. S. First Cavalry troops bagged 2,600 Communist prisoners on the city's approaches.

They knocked out four Red tanks which tried to help block the American entry into the sprawling metropolis.

Three miles south of Pyongyang, Communist troops attempted to dig in, but the eager American cavalrymen advanced so fast they did not give the enemy time to organize a defense.

Up until a late hour Thursday, no word had been received in Tokyo to indicate that either the Americans or the South Koreans had crossed the wide, navigable Taedong. That river bisects Pyongyang from northeast to southwest Chinnampo's capture was expected by Australian and U. S. 24th Infantry Division troops which by Wednesday had reached the approaches of that important harbor city, a major port of entry for ocean traffic from Red China's Manchuria.

RECIPES

Chocolate Wafer Cream Dessert

- 1 tall can evaporated milk, icy cold
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/3 cup lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- Small chocolate wafers (approximately 32)
- 1/4 cup chocolate wafer crumbs

Pour evaporated milk into freezing tray of refrigerator and chill until ice crystals have formed around the edge. Soften gelatin in cold water. Place over boiling water and stir until dissolved. Chill to consistency of unbeaten egg white. Whip chilled evaporated milk until stiff; beat in lemon juice and rind; beat in chilled gelatin mixture. Spoon about one-third of the mixture into a 2-quart loaf pan or mold. Arrange whole chocolate wafers over creamy mixture. Repeat procedure, topping mold with last third of milk-gelatin mixture. Chill until firm. Unmold on serving platter. Garnish top with chocolate wafer crumbs.

Yield: 8 servings.

Think twice today when you buy a truck!

THAT new truck you're considering may have to last a long time. So you'll be wise to look at a GMC for these important reasons:

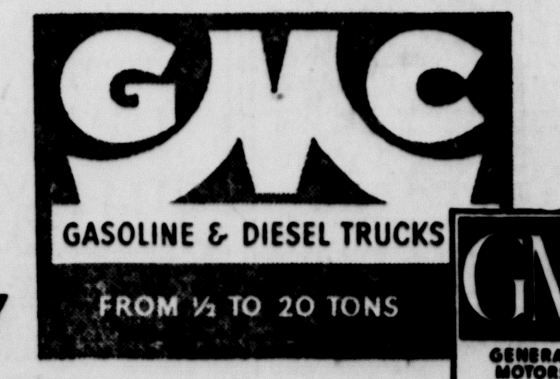

GMC's are built by the world's largest exclusive manufacturer of commercial vehicles—with the broadest truck engineering experience.

GMC's are real trucks. Engine, transmission and frame, as well as cab and axles, are all specially truck-built to give you longer service.

GMC truck-built engines have high horsepower with higher sustained torque—greater pulling power. They are built to give extra years of service with less maintenance.

GMC extra-value features include Synchro-Mesh transmission, Tocco-hardened crankshaft, full-pressure lubrication, recirculating ball-bearing steering gear, air-plane-type bearings and Lifetime Weather-sealed cabs as standard equipment on practically all models from 1/2 ton up.

That's why more truckers are buying GMC's today than ever before—experience proves them best in the long haul!

GIRL SCOUT FUND DRIVE IS NOW UNDERWAY

Literature Being Mailed To Residents On Rural and Star Routes

BOARD MEETING HELD

Fliers publicizing the Girl Scout Fund Drive are being mailed this week to Rural and Star mail routes throughout Bucks County, announced William A. Rawak, County Fund Drive Chairman. Chairmen of the various districts are lining-up workers and the drive opened Saturday. Chairmen for this area include: Bristol—not appointed; Mrs. Gertrude Eisenhardt, Croydon; Mrs. Robert Hoff, Cornwells Heights; Mrs. Thomas Annesley, Jr., Andalusia.

The regular meeting of the Board was held on Monday at Cross Keys with Mrs. Hillborn Dean, president, presiding. Mrs. Russell Walter, Buckingham, reported for the Leaders' Club stating that they will hold their November meeting in the Moose Hall and the program will be arts and crafts, Monday evening.

The minutes of the October 2nd Council meeting were read and the budget presented at that time was reviewed by the group. Mrs. William H. Rever, Andalusia, organization chairman, told of twenty troops in the process of organization throughout the county, as well as the 81 that are now registered. Mrs. Harry Willis, Warminster, training chairman, stated that two

Group Leadership Courses have been started, one in Bristol at the St. James Church on Thursday afternoons and one in Newtown on Wednesday evenings at the New Century Club. Instructors include Miss Jessie Brittingham, executive director; Miss Martha Gillogly, field director; and Mrs. Allen Brady, Wycombe, volunteer trainer. The Council is very pleased to have the help of Mrs. Brady who is a former Girl Scout professional. A new leadership course was started in Doylestown on Tuesday afternoon at the Swartzlander Community House. A Training film, "The Troop Committee at Work," has been purchased by the committee for use throughout the county. Mrs. Willis will attend the Board Members Training Course starting on Monday, October 23rd, in Philadelphia.

The program committee, Mrs. Marvin V. Keller, chairman, is working on acquiring outdoor hiking and troop camping sites for the troop resource file as well as possible Community Service projects. They are purchasing several new books for the office library for use by the troops as well as a reflector oven and a World Flag as the flag of the Council for County-wide meetings.

Miss Martha Gillogly announced that the senior conference for Section 8 will be held in the Sell-Perk High School. Girls and adults from this area went to a planning meeting in Bethlehem last Saturday. A report of the conference in Pittsburgh was made by the delegates who attended last week.

BUCKS COUNTY RATES HIGH IN AGRICULTURE

Statistics Are Given As Part of Pennsylvania Week Celebration

PRODUCES MUCH FOOD

Bucks County has a scintillating place in the agriculture of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. William S. De Cou, agriculture chairman in Bucks County for Pennsylvania Week, statistically places Bucks County among the leading food producing areas of not only the state, but the nation.

In connection with Pennsylvania Week celebration, Bucks County with over 4,000 farms aggregating some 267,000 acres of land, rates high among the 67 counties. In fact, the entire United States, Bucks County is one of the largest producers of chickens, eggs and of vegetables harvested for sale. Bucks rates first in Pennsylvania for vegetables and third in chickens and eggs produced. According to the latest published census, Bucks County produced, in one year 1,083,144 chickens, 26,774 turkeys, 34,583 hogs and 21,599 cows.

Certain townships of Bucks County are particularly notable for their high productivity of farm products. Hilltown township rates first in Bucks for chickens with over 103,000. Plumstead township is second. Hilltown also rates first in corn and oats acreage and second in cows on farms. Plumstead rates first in turkeys and Solebury second. Bensalem rates first in barley. Tinticum leads in rye production. Hilltown forges ahead in producing compared to all other counties in winter wheat.

Pennsylvania, to keep up production, has paid particular attention to soil erosion. In Bucks county there is a system for control of soil losses. No lack of attention, to this important phase of agriculture, is given to the farms that are in need of control practice.

Fill Three Rooms of Phillips Mill Near New Hope

SCULPTURED ITEMS

NEW HOPE, Oct. 19 — As harmonious and pleasant a group of pictures as has greeted the eyes of the beholder on entering Phillips Mill in many a year is now on display until November 5th at the annual exhibition by artists of this vicinity. The three rooms of the picturesque old mill contain 103 paintings and 10 pieces of sculpture by 70 artists who now live and work here.

Among the paintings especially noted are several by newcomers to the show as well as several by the better known painters of this locale. The works range in style from the out and out realistic to the not too abstract.

Alden Wicks is represented by his usual fine realization in a humorous "St. Francis." John Follinsbee by the sincerely felt poetry of "Pines;" an incandescent semi-abstract entitled "Easter Eggs" is offered by Paul Froelich; and two characteristically tender paintings, "Spring Landscape" and "Spring Planting, Stony Ridge" by Daniel Garber; "Cottonwoods, Arizona," is a strong and rugged impression of the west by B. J. O. Nordfeldt; a sincere study of peasants is emotional and moving in Charles Ward's large canvas "Sorrow." A subtle, moody enigma "The Bridge of Recollection and Regret" by Harry Leith-Ross suggests a tone poem; "Little Friends from the Sea," fantastically conceived but realistic in detail, is shown by John Sharp; and by John Foster "Abstracted Owls," a study of vibrant color and strong design; Francis Speight shows a muffled though luminous regional landscape of "Manayunk Mills;" Faye Swengel Badura, the sharp-edged facets of sunlight and shadow in "Badura's Garden;" "The Student," by Walter E. Baum, is forthright and bold and within the energetic framework shows subtleties of judgment. Sigmund Kozlow portrays a tender and nostalgic charm in the skating scene called "Winter Afternoon." Ernest Biddle designs strongly in "Figure in Landscape," and John R. Maxwell translates landscape into softly-colored angles in "Winter Scene."

Also represented by fine examples of their work are: George Sotter, Randolph Bye, Paul Darrow, Paul Crosthwaite, Ben Soloway, R. A. Darragh Miller, William Francis Taylor, and Clarence Carter.

The sculpture section this year is smaller than usual but shows fine examples by Harry Rosin with "Reclining Nude," Jo Jenks with "Portrait of William P. Jenks," Dorothy Moore with "Elizabeth," Selma Burke with "Figure," and other fine works.

The exhibition will be open from one until six o'clock every day and on Sunday from 12 until six o'clock. Tea will be served every day except Sunday.

RICHMAN'S

REPRINTS THE FOLLOWING LETTER ON COLOR TELEVISION:
315 MILL ST., BRISTOL

October 14, 1950.

Dear Admiral Television Dealer:

You will be interested in the following telegram received this morning from Ross D. Siragusa, President of Admiral Corporation, on the subject of color television:

"Regarding recent FCC color decision we urge you acquaint your customers with fact that decision allows for continuation dual standards of telecasting which means that present excellent programming will continue in black and white on all four major networks. Impractical unsightly whirling disc system which commission approved will be pushed only by CBS Network owning four stations out of a national total of 107. No sponsor will make any investment color telecasts for audience which will consist mainly of CBS executives. It is our prediction CBS color will bumble along for a few months after which compatible electronic system which can be utilized by present receivers will be perfected. Then CBS receivers will be completely obsolete. In view these facts we urge you reassure public that Columbia color and FCC's action means little or nothing to harm growth of television as we know it. Admiral is proud of way television dealers America's hardest hitting sales force have steadily increased their business in spite of obstacles bureaucrats have constantly thrown their way."

ROSS D. SIRAGUSA, President
Admiral Corporation

You must understand that color is a long way off and any consumer who waits for its appearance is missing the finest entertainment in human history—available today—now!!

An informed public will readily see that there is no reason to wait in buying. Our task is to tell our customers the entire story.

Very truly yours,
PEIRCE-PHELPS, INC.

JULY FATALITIES ON HIGHWAYS INCREASED

12 More During That Month
This Year Than in July of 1949

IN STATE OF PENNA.

The Bureau of Highway Safety reports that 133 persons were killed on the state's highways during the month of July, 12 more than died in July of 1949.

Ninety six of these deaths occurred on rural roads, and 37 in urban areas, reports J. E. Smiley, chief of research and statistics for the bureau.

The total for the first seven months of this year is still less than the toll for the same period last year, with 808 deaths being recorded this year and 843 in 1949.

Pedestrian deaths for the first seven months were down from 366 in 1949 to 277 this year, showing the results of an educational campaign directed at pedestrians and motorists, Mr. Smiley reports.

The deadliest day in July of this year was July 1, when 14 persons were killed. A dozen persons died on July 29.

Bucks county recorded no highway deaths in July, keeping its total for the first seven months at 14, the same as last year. Twelve of the deaths in Bucks county occurred on rural roads, and two in urban areas.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY'S

New Automatic Drive Makes its Bow in the new 1951 MERCURY

"Smoother, simpler, more efficient!"
—that's how engineers hail this amazing new automatic drive that's coming soon in the new 1951 MERCURY.

MAYBE you've read about it. Surely you've heard about it. It's the amazing new automatic transmission developed by Ford Motor Company. Now you're going to see it, thrill to it, for the first time in any car, in the new 1951 Mercury.

Called Merc-O-Matic

Merc-O-Matic is the name. And of this you can be sure: there'll be nothing like it on the road! The thrilling new 1951 Mercury will be making a debut in our showrooms in a very few days. And once you see it, we think you'll agree:

For "the drive of your life," it's the new 1951 Mercury with Merc-O-Matic Drive!

What is Merc-O-Matic Drive? It's a completely new, completely automatic drive developed under the direction of Ford Motor Company and Borg-Warner transmission engineers, and made to order for Mercury's great, V-type, 8-cylinder engine. It's a-m-o-o-t-h-e-r, simpler, more efficient!

Makes every driver an expert

Naturally, there's no clutch or gearshift. But there the resemblance to other drives ends. For this new Merc-O-Matic Drive is different. Even the easier-to-read indicator panel is different. The drive selector is so arranged that a person accustomed to a standard shift will feel perfectly at home. And if you're familiar with other drives, you'll notice immediately the big difference in the way this new 1951 Mercury with Merc-O-Matic performs.

There's no "mushiness." With Merc-O-Matic Drive you get instant, certain response. You start in one smooth sweep of power. No tugging as gears change. There's a "down-shift" for extra hill-climbing and passing power; just press the accelerator smartly to the floor. And Merc-O-Matic is cool operating — no uncomfortable heat in the passenger compartment.

There's no "runaway" downhill. You are in control all the time with the engine's compression at work to save your brakes.

There's no stalling in traffic. Park on a hill if you like. You're safe. Merc-O-Matic Drive locks when in Parking position.

Yes, Merc-O-Matic is going to make you forget all you ever knew about automatic transmissions. This is it—the easy, sure, safe, a-m-o-o-t-h-e-r "drive of your life." And—it's extremely thrifty.

Dozens of New Features in 1951 Mercury

But Merc-O-Matic is only part of the great new Mercury for 1951. There's a new look from end to end . . . beautiful new styling . . . rich, new fabrics and colors to make Mercury for 1951 one of the smartest cars on the road.

New safety, too—the new rear window alone gives you more than 1,000 square inches of safe viewing area. Greater comfort in a new, improved ventilating system which brings you just the amount of fresh air you want, when you want it, and where you want it.

It's the plus car of the year—plus on beauty, plus on comfort, plus on safety, plus on economy—plus on everything but price!

All that and the great new Merc-O-Matic Drive, too. Yes, you'll want to see these new Mercurys. So watch Mercury showrooms for the new 1951 Mercury with Merc-O-Matic for "the drive of your life"—for "the buy of your life."

"It has always been the first aim of Mercury and its dealers to bring you each year a better car, better in every way that engineering, research, and experience can achieve. For 1951 we are proud to present the great new Ford Motor Company automatic transmission—Merc-O-Matic Drive—developed by what we regard as the greatest team of engineers in the country today. We think this automatic drive is as efficient and as reliable as the automobile industry knows how to build today.

"We sincerely believe that the new 1951 Mercury, with its Merc-O-Matic Drive, its new style and comfort, will be the greatest of all Mercurys."
